

This is one of a series of factsheets that present preliminary data from the survey conducted by the Filipino Youth Transitions in Canada project.

Q. Where did our survey respondents go to high school?

A. The FYTiC project is focusing on cities with large Filipino communities – mostly Vancouver, Winnipeg and Toronto. This chart shows which of these cities our survey participants lived in when they went to high school. It also shows that in all cities our respondents have been predominantly women.
