

York Centre for Asian Research

Why become a YCAR Graduate Associate?

Funding

YCAR provides awards for fieldwork and language training and has a fund to support our Graduate Associates' professional development activities. A full list of opportunities is available at: www.yorku.ca/ycar

Work Space

YCAR has 10 assigned work spaces for its Graduate Associates. Space is allocated on a term-by-term basis. It comes with some free printing/copying and it is a quiet space in one of the nicest spots on campus. A call for applications is sent out in November, April and August for the following terms.

Space may be available in the Fall 2020 term, but it is dependent on university operations. More information will be available in September 2020.*

Graduate Diploma in Asian Studies

Enroll in a unique programme to enhance your graduate studies. You don't need to be a Graduate Associate to enrol but for some of YCAR's awards, preference is given to Graduate Associates. For more information on the diploma programme visit <http://ycar.apps01.yorku.ca/graduate-diploma/>.

The opportunity to disseminate your research

Disseminate your Asia-related academic and non-academic publications, media commentary, artistic outputs and other activities to a broad Asian research community.

YCAR support for research and community events and activities

Graduate Associates are eligible to apply for the funding and organizational support that YCAR offers for research events, activities and initiatives at York, at other institutions and in the community. .

Become a member of the Centre's Executive Committee

Student members represent the Centre's Graduate Associates and have input into how the Centre is run, its activities and how funds are allocated for research.

Participate in York faculty research projects

YCAR has over 70 faculty associates and the number continues to grow! Stay informed of opportunities for students to participate in research projects at YCAR and elsewhere at York.

Join the organizing committee for the next YCAR International Graduate Student Conference
